Visiting Media and Campus Security

All visiting media should have pre-authorization to visit campus. While our media policy is open and we enjoy a good relationship with working reporters and media outlets, no reporters, writers, editors or the like should be on campus without permission and/or without notification of the marketing department and campus security.

Crisis Communications

There is a comprehensive crisis communications policy and manual that accompanies this policy. In case of a crisis, please inform the office of Marketing and Communications immediately.

Social Media

There is a comprehensive social media policy and manual that accompanies this policy. In case of a social media incident or crisis, please inform the office of Marketing and Communications immediately.
